

THE COMPETITION AUTHORITY

The Competition Authority occasionally retains lawyers both to advise on prospective cases and to represent the Authority in litigation. The Authority intends to create a panel of solicitors and of Senior and Junior Counsel with relevant expertise who wish to be considered for the above purposes.

Relevant areas of expertise are the following:

- Irish and E.U Competition Law (including Merger law)
- Judicial Review
- Criminal Law
- Communications Law (including telecommunications)
- Energy Law
- Aviation Law
- Broadcasting Law

Solicitors and barristers with experience in the above or any other area which they consider to be relevant to the work of the Authority may register their interest by supplying the Authority with the following information:

- Name, business address and contact details
- Details of qualifications
- Details of relevant experience
- Details of rates charged for advices, consultations, drafting of pleadings and court representation
- Indication of general availability, where possible.

The Authority does not guarantee to retain all those lawyers who are placed on its panel, and it reserves the right to consult and engage lawyers who are not on the panel. Information on the work of the Authority may be found on its website at www.tca.ie.
